

Human Sexuality:
A Psychosocial Perspective, 2nd Edition
Westheimer and Lopater

STUDY GUIDE

CHAPTER 3 - FEMALE REPRODUCTIVE ANATOMY
Pages 54 - 75

CHAPTER 5 - TAKING CARE OF YOURSELF
Pages 124-145 (read to common vaginal infections)
Pages 148 (start at Endometriosis) to 154

1. Location of the following and purposes for/functions of each:
-ovary, fallopian tube, uterus, endometrium, cervix, os,
vagina, transformation zone, fimbria, labia minora,
labia majora, clitoris, clitoral hood, mons, urethra,
"G" spot, perineum and anus.
2. Importance of "Transformation Zone" (not in the text), Pap smears and cervical cancer
3. Four stages of the menstrual cycle and primary hormones in each stage and where the hormones are produced in the body (know FSH, Estrogen, LH and Progesterone)
4. Differences between menstrual problems (dysmenorrhea, amenorrhea (primary and secondary), Peri-Menstrual Syndrome (PMS))
5. Clitorectomy and infibulation
6. Endometriosis, causes, problems and treatment
7. PID, causes, problems and treatment
8. Incidence of breast cancer, techniques for detection, importance of early detection, treatment and factors associated with breast cancer
9. Incidence of ovarian and uterine cancer, detection and treatment